The topic for my UROP internship required me to combine my pharmacy knowledge and my creative skills, which I thought would be incredibly interesting. I also applied to develop my confidence and to experience a different aspect of pharmacy.

Why did you apply for a UROP research internship?
The entire experience, from day one, was amazing. I felt like my opinions and views mattered and my supervisor really listened to them. Catherine helped me to develop my confidence by acknowledging my work and encouraging me throughout the project.

Briefly outline the project that you worked on...
I made an online learning material for 4th year Pharmacy students on qualitative research. I made interactive PowerPoint slides to make an engaging learning material that allowed the viewers to learn and test their knowledge.

What did you enjoy most about the UROP scheme?
The entire experience, from day one, was amazing. I felt like my opinions and views mattered and my supervisor really listened to them. Catherine helped me to develop my confidence by acknowledging my work and encouraging me throughout the project.

How has your UROP research internship helped you decide what’s next for life after university?
Before I completed my UROP project, I assumed that I work in a Pharmacy field related to community, hospital or industry. However, now I know that my experience can be used to open doors that I have never even considered – like developing educational materials, for example.
